No I don't. Allegedly – Dr Patel is supposed to be in this meeting this afternoon so hoping I can get with him afterwards and see if we can breath some action back into this. I do know one thing – this isn't going to move an inch without him.

Wasn't really looking for a response as much as I wanted to show that Intuitive's general counsel is now in on the act.

We actually have a meeting today with Intuitive regarding the AMP program. That ought to be entertaining

We are not reprocessing. Repairing, not altering.

Any thoughts from Corporate on this? Same old crap. Doesn't mean anything.

Check this out – came from Intuitive' s legal counsel which is a first compared to letters that I've seen in the past which were from sales people/managers
